

Endangered Species Act Candidate Species (August 12, 2011)
WildEarth Guardians

Butterflies (11)

Common Name	Scientific Name	Listing Priority Number	Where found in U.S. (historic and/or current)	Date of Initial Candidacy
Butterfly, Bartram's hairstreak	Strymon acis bartrami	3	FL	05/22/84
Butterfly, Florida leafwing	Anaea troglodyta floridalis	3	FL	05/22/84
Butterfly, Hermes copper	Hermelycaena (=Lycaena) hermes	5	CA	04/14/11
Butterfly, Mariana eight-spot	Hypolimnas octucula mariannensis	3	Pacific Remote Islands	09/19/97
Butterfly, Mariana wandering	Vagrans egistina	2	Pacific Remote Islands	09/19/97
Butterfly, Miami blue	Cyclargus (=Hemiargus) thomasi bethunebakeri	3	FL	05/22/84
Butterfly, Mount Charleston blue	Plebejus (=Icaricia) shasta charlestonensis	3	NV	03/08/11
Butterfly, Puerto Rican harlequin	Atlantea tulita	2	Puerto Rico	05/31/11
Checkerspot, Taylor's (=whulge)	Euphydryas editha taylori	3	OR, WA	10/30/01
Skipper, Dakota	Hesperia dacotae	8	MN, ND, SD, IL, IA	05/22/84
Skipper, Mardon	Polites mardon	8	WA, OR, CA	01/06/89
The Puerto Rican harlequin butterfly and Hermes copper butterfly were designated candidate species following publication of the November 2010 CNOR and will not receive either a proposed listing rule or “not warranted” determination under either settlement agreement. The Mount Charleston blue butterfly was designated as a candidate species following publication of the November 2010 CNOR, but will receive a proposed listing rule or “not warranted” finding under CBD’s settlement agreement. The Miami blue butterfly was emergency listed and proposed for listing since the last CNOR was published in November 2010.

Damselflies (4)

Common Name	Scientific Name	Listing Priority Number	Where found in U.S. (historic and/or current)	Date of Initial Candidacy
Damselfly, blackline Hawaiian	Megalagrion nigrohamatum nigrolineatum	9	HI	05/22/84
Damselfly, crimson Hawaiian	Megalagrion leptodemus	2	HI	05/22/84
Damselfly, oceanic Hawaiian	Megalagrion oceanicum	2	HI	05/22/84
Damselfly, orangeblack Hawaiian	Megalagrion xanthomelas	8	HI	05/22/84
The blackline, crimson, and oceanic Hawaiian damselflies have been proposed for listing since the last CNOR was published in November 2010.				